Dear Mr. Warren:

I am writing to ask a question, which to me is of very vital importance to our country. Why have you allowed left-winger Norman Redlich to be hired as counsel to the commission investigating the assination of President Kennedy?

This commission, I understand has as one of its basic issues the investigation of the extent to which the Soviet government is involved in President Kennedy's assination. Why then, in the name of common sense, have you allowed such a stupid appointment? You might as well have hired Alger Hiss.

I would like to hear your reasoning as to the "why" of this appointment? The only reason I can think of that you feel the communists deserve "equal time" status?

Questioning yours,

Robert Mallett
